CATH 340: Catholicism and Public Policy

This course seeks to understand the relationship of the Catholic Church and its intellectual tradition with the modern world, placing contemporary Catholic social teaching in dialogue with the social, political, and legal issues of today. Emphasizing social justice and human rights, we will examine a series of case studies in order to see if the Catholic tradition can shed light on contemporary social questions.

MTWR 11:05-13:25, July 12-August 9

Instructors: marie-eve.melanson@mcgill.ca, matthew.nini@mcgill.ca