4. Recognizing and responding to intimate partner violence and child maltreatment: Online Survey

Delphine Collin-Vezina, a co-investigator in the Researching the Impact of Service Provider Education (RISE) Project funded by the Public Health Agency of Canada invites you to participate in an online survey to better understand the educational needs and preferences of healthcare providers related to safely recognizing and responding to intimate partner violence and child maltreatment.

The survey is anonymous and is open to all Canadian physicians and social workers, as well as medical residents, fellows, and social work trainees completing their education at a Canadian institution. The survey has four sections and should take approximately 15-20 minutes to complete. Any questions or concerns can be directed to the study coordinator, Dr. Anita Acai, at acaia@mcmaster.ca

5. Social justice and culturally competent practice focus group study

Professor Eunjung Lee, Factor-Inwentash Faculty of Social Work (FIFSW) at the University of Toronto, invites MSW students to participate in a focus group for a study that aims to learn about social work students' experience of, and perspectives on, training and learning social justice and culturally competent practice (SJCCP) in social work. The focus group will be hosted via Zoom and last for about 90 minutes.

If you are interested, you may learn more about the study by clicking the link below.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact Ran Hu at sjccp.fsw@utoronto.ca

6. Dean of Students Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Academic Advising Dean of Students Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Academic Advising

We are accepting nominations for the Dean of Students Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Academic Advising for the 2020-2021 academic year.

An important part of the mission of the Office of the Dean of Students is to support and develop academic advising at McGill. To this end, this Award recognizes the integral and valuable contribution that academic advising makes to undergraduate student life at McGill and illuminates the work of outstanding advisors.

We welcome nominations for the Award from colleagues, supervisors, and students. The nomination deadline is April 23, 2021 at 5:00 p.m. Please visit the webpage for more information on how to submit a nomination.

7. Canadian Social Work Review 2021 Student Competition

9. McGill Institute of Canada graduate awards for 2021-22 - May 3rd deadline for applications and nominations

This notice concerns departments who have doctoral students working on subject matter focused on Canada (Masters' theses are also eligible for the Rotman prize). The deadline for receipt of applications/nominations for the MISC graduate awards is May 3. The related forms and information may be found on our website: <https://www.mcgill.ca/misc/awards/graduate>

10. Seeking a graduate co-op student/intern to support work on 2SLGBTQIA+ inequities

The Social Determinants of Health Division (SDHD) in the Public Health Agency of Canada (PHAC) has a Master's/PhD student co-op/internship position available this spring-summer to support work we are undertaking related to 2SLGBTQIA+ health inequities. The position will start in early May and continue for 16 weeks, full-time. This multi-departmental initiative, informed by extensive community consultation, will guide the Government's work to improve the social, health, and economic outcomes of diverse LGBTQ2 communities throughout Canada: <https://www.canada.ca/en/canadian-heritage/campaigns/free-to-be-me/lgbtq2-action-plan.html>

Please contact Beth Jackson (beth.jackson@canada.ca) for more information

11. EQRC Conference Announcement

Please consider submitting a proposal for a paper presentation of your research at the 33rd Annual Ethnographic & Qualitative Research Conference (EQRC). EQRC is sponsored this year by the University of Nevada Las Vegas (UNLV) College of Education. EQRC will be held on June 14-15, 2021 as a virtual conference.

The deadline for submitting a proposal is April 30th and papers will undergo juried review on a rolling basis, with prompt notifications of acceptance/rejection so that presenters can prepare the poster file or record their lecture presentation. All presented papers are eligible for submission to the Journal of Ethnographic & Qualitative Research (www.jeqr.org) and all submitted papers will be peer-reviewed for potential publication.
