COMPLEMENTARY COURSE INFORMATION

While all courses offered at McGill have academic merit, not all are appropriate for credit towards the B.Sc. Rehab Sci., major in PT degree. Students should consult the information on the School's website for the regulations governing which courses are open to them.

Minerva will not necessarily prevent students from registering for courses they cannot/should not be taking, or are in conflict with another course*. After the add/drop period, these courses may be identified on students' records and flagged for no program credit. In some cases, this may happen when records are verified just before graduation, which could delay graduation until appropriate courses are taken.

Please keep in mind that students are responsible for the correctness and completeness of their records. It is your responsibility to make sure that your student record is accurate and all requirements and complementary/elective courses are correctly recorded.

While faculty advisers and staff are always available to give advice and guidance, it is the student's ultimate responsibility for: 1) completeness and correctness of course selection; 2) compliance with and completion of program and degree requirements; and 3) observance of regulations and deadlines. It is the student's responsibility to seek guidance if in any doubt; misunderstanding or misapprehension will not be accepted as cause for dispensation from any regulation, deadline, program, or degree requirement.

 COURSE CONFLICTS

You should not be considering taking two courses which are scheduled at the same time. We do not support this type of learning, in which you attend the lectures of one course and intentionally miss the other course lectures, but learn by listening to the lecture recordings.

Learning does not occur simply by listening to the lecture recordings, but also by interacting with your peers and listening to their questions while being physically present in the classroom. In addition, lecture recordings are used as a means to help reinforce your learning (e.g. to hear the material a second time) and not as a way to replace your physical presence in the classroom.

Ultimately, it is your decision to pursue two courses scheduled at the same time and Minerva does not prevent you from registering. However, note that if the exams or other course activities for these courses are scheduled at the same time, we will not accommodate your conflict request.
