Bursaries, Scholarships, and Awards

McGill

McGill University is located on a land which has long served as a site of meeting and exchange amongst Indigenous peoples, including the Haudenosaunee and Anishinabeg nations.

McGill Okòn:ra Undergraduate Award

Okòn:ra, the Mohawk word for Red Oak, is a symbol of strength, morale, resistance, and knowledge. The Oak is considered a cosmic storehouse of wisdom embodied in its towering strength. It grows slowly, but surely at its own rate. The oak tree grows on McGill's campuses and red is McGill's school colour.

This $5,000 Award will be allocated annually to every Indigenous student in full-time studies in any on-campus McGill undergraduate degree program, including Bachelor's, Law (BCL&JD), Medicine (MDCM), and Dentistry (DMD), with a complete application and confirmed Indigenous affiliation. Students must carry a full-time course load, unless approved by the McGill.

There is a limit of $20,000 per student per degree program for the Okòn:ra Awards processed through Indspire, a threshold monitored by McGill.
