

SPONSORSHIP PACKAGE 2019

The Canadian Region (.caISES) of the American Indian Science and Engineering Society (AISES) will be hosting the second annual national gathering of Indigenous STEM (science, technology, engineering and math) students and professionals March 1st-3rd in Montreal.

The gathering is an annual celebration of the contributions of Indigenous peoples to STEM and is intended to assemble individuals for a weekend of networking, peer-to-peer support and mentorship.

This event will bring AISES' 40 years of Indigenous STEM learning and community-building experience to Canada. AISES provides networking, peer support and mentorship to Indigenous peoples in STEM at all levels of their educational and professional experience.

Students are given opportunities to explore undergraduate and graduate opportunities, career pathways, engage with Indigenous STEM professionals, and network with scholarship granting organizations and corporations looking to hire. STEM professionals and corporations have the opportunity to meet bright, accomplished young Indigenous peoples looking to establish a career in STEM.

“The American Indian Science and Engineering Society (AISES) is a national, nonprofit organization focused on substantially increasing the representation of Indigenous peoples of North America in science, technology, engineering and math (STEM) studies and careers.”
