

The CORE weekly seminar Thursday, May 3rd at 12pm - Dr. Anurag Bhargava

CORE weekly seminar will be held Thursday, May 3rd at 12pm

Our speaker

Dr. Anurag Bhargava, MD, MSc

will give the presentation

TB control in India: Back to the basics

The presentation will underline the role of primary determinants of health like Nutrition and of primary health care in the treatment and control of TB. It draws on our original research to highlight undernutrition as the major driver of TB epidemic in India, contributing to more than 1 million cases in India and the role of the comorbidity of undernutrition as a contributor to the high TB mortality in India. Finally, we highlight our rediscovery and reanalysis of a socio-medical experiment of the early 20th century which has great relevance for achievement of the END TB goals in India.

The main presentation room will be 3D.01 at our 5252 location or

LIVESTREAM THE PRESENTATION FROM WHEREVER YOU ARE!

You can listen to the presentation on your computer from any location.

Click on the link below to access our Youtube channel and select the highlighted live video

Stream live here

Discussions and interactions with the speaker will be held in the kitchen next to the conference room after the presentation.

Coffee and food will be served before the presentation, for those who attend.