

Internal Medicine – Gastroenterology

Sites

Glen-Royal Victoria Hospital / Montreal General Hospital
Jewish General Hospital
St. Mary's Hospital

Glen-Royal Victoria Hospital / Montreal General Hospital

Supervisor (MGH/RVH)	Dr Constantine Soulellis	E-mail	Constantine.soulellis@mcgill.ca
Coordinator	Dr Constantine Soulellis	Telephone	(514) 934-1934, x 34592 (Mon, Tue, Fri)
		E-mail	Residency-gastroenterology.med@mcgill.ca

Elective Description

Available to one Clerkship student at any one time. Students will be accepted after finishing their TCP component. The Division of Gastroenterology is a large consulting service. Students taking electives in this discipline will participate in consulting rounds on the indoor service, attend and see patients in two out-patient clinics per week, attend the weekly conferences in Clinical Gastroenterology, Pathology and G. I. Radiology, and become familiar with various endoscopic, motility and biopsy procedures. No elective requests will be considered for dates falling into Period 7 due to reduced holiday staffing.

Elective Duration

2, 4 weeks

Educational Objectives

Please refer to the MDCM Program Learning Objectives

Scope of Work

GI Elective is a consult service. No call days, no wards.

Recommended Reading/Preparation

Welcome Package

Jewish General Hospital

Contact Information

Supervisor	Dr. Albert Cohen	Telephone	(514) 340-8286
Coordinator	Bridget Teoli	Telephone	(514) 340-8223
		E-mail	bteoli@gas.igh.mcgill.ca

Elective Description

Available to one Clerkship student at any one time. The Division of Gastroenterology will accept medical students for a four or six week elective program. Students are urged to see patients in consultation, have their consultations reviewed by an attending member of the Division of Gastroenterology, and follow the patient through the GI lab for any investigations. He/she should be exposed to several different endoscopic procedures and pathology to be aware of indications, complications, and limitations of these procedures. Students taking an elective in Gastroenterology fall under the direct supervision of the trainee in Gastroenterology and the attending physician on consultations.

Scope of Work

Formal teaching includes the bi-weekly Conferences, the Grand Medical Rounds, the Gastrointestinal-Radiology bi-weekly Conference, and attending rounds in Gastroenterology. Students on electives will be urged to attend the seminars for ICM students. Outpatient experience is available as well in GI clinics, adjacent to the GI Endoscopy laboratory.

St. Mary's Hospital

Supervisor	Dr. G. Morelli	Telephone	(514) 345-3511, x 3265
Coordinator	Caroline Mackereth	Telephone	(514) 345-3511, x 2660
		E-mail	caroline.mackereth@ssss.gouv.qc.ca

Elective Description

Available to one clerkship student at any one time. The Division of Gastroenterology will accept medical students for a four-week elective program. Students will see patients in consultation, in the ER, wards and clinic and have their consultations reviewed by an attending member of the Division of Gastroenterology. Students will also follow patients in the GI unit for any investigations, will have exposure to different endoscopic procedures and pathology. Students will be aware of indications, complications and limitations of these procedures. Formal teaching includes weekly Medical Grand Rounds.

 No elective requests will be considered for dates falling in Period 7 (Dec-Jan) due to reduced holiday staffing.

McGill

Faculty of Medicine Faculté de médecine